

NATIONAL BLUES MUSEUM

AHCB SOCIAL EVENT-MAY 6, 2023

10:00 A.M. Saturday morning

The National Blues Museum explores the Blues and celebrates the genre as the foundation of all modern American music.

The Museum educates guests in an entertaining environment that includes high impact technology driven experiences, a state-of-the-art theater, artifact-driven exhibits, and robust public programming.

NATIONAL BLUES MUSEUM
615 WASHINGTON AVENUE
Downtown St. Louis, 63101
Wheelchair accessible.

Parking lots and street parking are available near the museum. The closest paid lot is an open-air lot located at 6th street and Lucas located behind the museum. This link has more information: Visit | Welcome | National Blues Museum | St. Louis, MO

10:00 a.m. Museum opens and we meet there. Pay admission individually upon arrival.

Admission:

Adults (18 or older)	$15
Seniors, Veterans, Active Military	$12
College Students, Children over 5	$10
Children under 5	FREE

RSVP to Carol (just so we know who's coming) at band or via email: commerfordcarol@gmail.com

Special Exhibition

The Spitzer Collection celebrates live Blues performances captured on film by David D. Spitzer. These photographs were taken between the 1970s and 1990s of famous and lesser-known Blues musicians.

Let's have lunch together! These eateries are all in the same block as the museum.

Hi-Pointe Drive-In: 634 Washington Avenue
Sugarfire Smoke House: 605 Washington Ave.
Pi Pizzeria: 610 Washington Ave.

After lunch, individuals may want to pop down to Busch Stadium for the Cards-Tigers game at 1:15 p.m.
Single Game Tickets | St. Louis Cardinals \(mlb.com\)